A "high jinks" party for former Salemites now living in Portland was held at the Anks Amusement park Saturday. About 3000 attended. A big basket lunch was served and the "jinks" were participated in by all. Those in charge were: Mrs. B. H. Bowman, Mrs. J. J. Murphy, Mrs. J. W. Cook, Mrs. W. B. Crane, Mrs. R. H. Dearborn and Mrs. S. W. Church. The board of managers was composed of General W. H. Odell, Judges R. S. Bean, C. E. Wolverson and W. N. Gatens, J. K. Gill, P. L. Willis, Judge Seneca Smith, Phil Metachan, Sr., ex-Governor T. T. Geer, Charles A. Johns, Dr. C. E. Elmer, Edgar B. Piper, of the Oregonian; B. Frank Irvine, of the Journal, and Rev. D. E. Gray. Some of those identified with the "jinks" were: John W. Minto, A. B. Crossman, John B. Coffey, John Knight, Charles B. Moores, Phil Metachan, Jr., Paul Sprout, Colonel Robert A. Miller and Anderson M. Cannon.—Oregonian.

Mrs. M. R. Baldwin of Salem is spending two weeks in this city, the guest of Mrs. L. Baldwin. Mrs. M. P. Baldwin's husband is attending the Shriner's Conclave at Atlanta, Georgia.—Independence Monitor.

The members of the Teacup Club were guests at a charming affair Saturday afternoon when they journeyed to Salem to attend a social function given in their honor by Mrs. A. V. Swarthout formerly Miss Gertrude Mc Bee of this city. The Swarthout home in Salem was fragrant and attractive in an arrangement of roses and California poppies, yellow being the prevailing color scheme. Corvallis young ladies and several Salem invited guests spent the afternoon very pleasantly, needlework and music providing added interest. Later the ladies were taken to the dining room and seated at a daintily appointed table attractively arranged in California poppies and yellow tinted place cards to mark the position of each guest. A delicious two-course luncheon was served by Mrs. Swarthout. The Corvallis ladies returned home on the evening train.—Corvallis Times.

Filling three automobiles, the following made up a party motoring to Willhoit springs Sunday, where they enjoyed an outing and a picnic lunch: Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Graber and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Anderson and daughter Dorella, Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Fullerton, Mrs. Sarah Farmer, Mrs. Wilson, Miss Arlene Ohm, Miss Viola Murray, Miss Annette Graber.

The John Steelhammers, of Woodburn, were guests of Mrs. Steelhammer's father, J. F. Goode, Sunday.

The training department for nurses of the Salem hospital under the superintendency of Miss Lillian McNary, will hold its annual commencement exercises at the First Presbyterian church tomorrow evening.

An especially brilliant program has been arranged, with John Claire Monteth, of Portland, secured for two solo numbers.

Hon. Lawrence T. Harris of Eugene will deliver the principal address, and the diplomas will be awarded by George P. Litchfield. The Peerless orchestra will render several selections, and an interesting feature will be a pipe organ number by Louis C. Meier.

Members of the graduating class are: Clara Bertha Kirschner, Ruth Isabel Watson, Laura Matilda Humphreys, Anna Frances Humphreys, Beila Karolina Erickson and Elinor Martha Hearing.

The program follows: Overture—"Northern Lights"—Weid Peerless Orchestra.

Daddy's Bedtime Story

The Spoiled Llama of the Barnyard

"Whoa! Stop!" the man cried.

JACK and Evelyn seemed to be in the best of spirits, so when daddy came in he said:

"It is plain to be seen that I must tell you a funny story this evening. Well, that is all right, I have one ready for you.

"Now you may think that a llama is a very funny thing to have in a barnyard with the other barnyard animals.

"The way he happened to come to the barnyard in the first place was this: The farmer who owned all the animals went one time on a long trip. On this trip he saw a most beautiful llama, who struck his fancy.

"So he bought the llama and took him back to his home.

"A number of his friends told him that they greatly feared that the llama would not get along with the other animals, but the man was willing to run the risk, for he was bent on owning the llama.

"When they got home the llama thought he had never seen so many strange animals in his life, and the other animals thought the same of him. Well, you know, animals have keen senses of humor. And the laughter in the barnyard was the noisiest laughter that ever was heard. And of course, the llama didn't mind being laughed at, as he could laugh just as hard as the other animals.

"Now, the man thought that the llama would enjoy being driven. He thought the animal could carry things around the farm.

"So after he had been there a few days the llama was hitched to a cart and given the milk bottles to carry and the pails of milk.

"The llama started off at the wildest speed. He went so fast that all the milk spilled over the barnyard, and no one could stop him, and the man cried: "Whoa, whoa! Stop!"

"But the llama kept right on. He came to a steep and very rocky bank. The man thought surely that would stop him, but not at all. The llama was used to climbing higher rocks than these. In fact, they seemed no more than pebbles to him. And up he went until the cart broke and fell down the bank.

"Then the llama turned and went back to the barnyard where the other animals stood with their mouths open watching him.

"The llama, when he got back, said to the man in llama talk: "You bought me for my beauty, so I will not be made useful."

"And although the man could not understand llama talk, as a rule, he understood what the llama meant this time.

"Never again did he, at any rate, try to make the llama useful."

Washington, May 19.—It was announced at the White House today that President Wilson would not withdraw the regular troops from Colorado now until after the searching investigation of the situation. The investigation will also determine Governor Ammons' contention that the recent special session of the Colorado legislature had devised means to meet the situation in the coal fields is true.

Washington, May 19.—The secretary of the interior has today designed for enlarged homestead 990,000 acres of land in small tracts in eastern Oregon, principally in the Des Chutes and John Day valleys, 170,000 acres in Astoria and Olanogon counties, Washington, and 250,000 acres in Lewis and Nez Perce counties, Idaho.

Spokane, Wash., May 19.—Sales headquarters for the handling of all fruit will be opened in Portland immediately by the North Pacific Fruit Distributors, according to orders today issued by the board of directors. Wilmer Sieg, of Hood River, will be sales manager.

Vera Cruz, Mex., May 19.—Mexican soldiers today returned to the military authorities here the two horses which Private Parks took with him when he disappeared a number of days ago. The Mexicans said they simply had orders to turn the horses over to the Americans, but were told nothing and knew nothing concerning Parks.

Sacramento, Cal., May 19.—Mrs. S. Mendis, 65 years old, a pioneer of Sacramento, was killed today by a 10-foot fall from her own back porch. A clothes line upon which she was hanging gave way and she fell, breaking her neck.

Late Yesterday

At Cincinnati, Ohio.—Joseph H. B. Foraker announced he was again a republican candidate for the United States senate.

At Eureka, Cal.—Wets beat the drys 2,809 to 1,727, a wet gain of nearly 800 votes since the wet and dry election two years ago.

At San Francisco.—Saying rabies was locally practically extinct, the supervisors decided not to pass a dog-muzzling ordinance until the mayor urged it.

At Rome.—Queen Mother Margherita entertained the American delegates to the international council of women at a garden party.

At San Jose, Cal.—Professor J. L. Seaton of the philosophy chair at Dakota Wesleyan university, was chosen president of the College of the Pacific.

At Gloucester, N. J.—Their automobile struck by a West Jersey and Seaboard railroad train, Harry Hunsberger and Mary Clarkson were killed and Mary Meyers was fatally hurt.

At San Jose, Cal.—S. R. Husted was elected mayor of San Jose by 1,500 majority over Dr. William Simpson.

At Washington.—In a test case decided by the court of claims, claims of mail-carrying railroads against the United States aggregating $31,000,000 and involving 720 railroads were denied.

At Hopland, Cal.—While trying to replace a burnt-out fuse, Robert Foster, son of A. W. Foster, former president of the Northwestern Pacific railroad, was shocked by a 240-volt electric current and died a few minutes later without regaining consciousness.

At San Francisco.—Mrs. M. Sebra was asphyxiated while trying to rescue two children in her charge from a similar fate. When Louis Lense, father of the children, returned home, he found the children unconscious, the woman dead on the stairway and gas pouring out of a leaking stove.

At San Francisco.—Before the police commission, charged with accusing Chief White of "doing jetties," Detective Chief Mooney swore he never criticized White, though four reporters swore he did.

At Redding, Cal.—City trustees let the contract for a reinforced bridge across the Sacramento river to cost $49,600.

The special issues of the Collegian are now in order. The "Frosh" are busy getting out the number for this week and the Sophs, the Y. W. and Y. M. C. A. and the coeds are preparing for special issues in the near future.

The Philodorian and Philodorian literary societies are planning a joint meeting for this week, at which time two skits, one of which was written by a member of the society, and the other, being specially arranged for the occasion, will be presented.

The girls' gymnasium classes have given up their inside work for tennis. They are required to play the game during the period that they formally reported for work in the gym.

The boys are undergoing the last physical examinations by Dr. Sweetland. All the men are examined twice each year. Special attention is given to under and over development of the different muscles and organs and they are assigned work that will help to strengthen the weaker muscles and organs. Their chest measurements, heart and lung action are all carefully recorded and changes noted from time to time.

There is considerable discussion among the students concerning the adding of another student publication to the present number. At present there is no outlet for the literary ability of the students, and it has been proposed that the new publications be given exclusively to short stories, poems, and other literary productions coming from the student body.

State and federal forest officers will make a special effort this year to get even more value out of the service than has been obtained heretofore. The usual procedure has been for the state fire warden or federal forest officers to send to the postmasters lists of local wardens and patrolmen, with their addresses and telephone numbers. These lists are given to the carriers with instructions to report forest fires to men whose names appear thereon, or to other responsible persons. This year a special effort will be made to follow up the sending out of the lists by having the patrolmen and wardens meet the carriers personally and to take the initiative in arranging such meetings, and also to map out a plan of action to be followed.

Co-operation between the rural carriers and the federal forest officers will be effective in the 20 states in which national forests exist and with state forest officers in the 29 states which have established their own fire protective systems. It is expected that the services of the carriers will be particularly valuable in helping to protect the new national forest areas in the southern Appalachians.
